- Try and have no alcohol a couple of days before & NO blood thinners 3 days before your appointment
- Wear loose clothes on the day of the appointment; the areas treated will be slightly tender.
- Please eat a healthy, well-balanced meal before we meet and drink lots of water.
- No lotion, oils, or sweat on the skin.
- No Antibiotics- Being on antibiotics 20 days before treatment and 40 days after the treatment can slow down the healing process.
- No Intense Working out Weight lifting and strenuous exercise should be avoided at least 2-3 days before your session. Putting strain on your muscles can cause swelling and soreness, which may heighten the sensation of the tattoo and increase healing time. It can also cause your skin to stretch slightly, resulting in your tattoo being distorted when your skin returns to normal.
Just a reminder: Pain receptors are heightened if you're menstruating, so please plan accordingly for procedure dates to avoid added discomfort.

POST-CARE AFTERCARE INSTRUCTIONS FOR A QUICKER HEALING TIME

It's a good idea to get familiar with how to take care of your medical tattoo (micro pigmentation) after your procedure! Look at the aftercare so you can prepare yourself for what's to come after your session.

Basic Information

- Be sure to wash your hands thoroughly before touching your procedure area(s) to avoid infection.
- Do not shower for 24 hours if possible. if showering in the first 24 hours keep the area treated as dry as possible
- First 3 days, cold compress the areas at least 3x daily for 10 minutes or as needed to reduce swelling. NO ICE just use a cold compress or ice-cold water.
- If the treatment area is left uncovered, apply a thin layer of Aquaphor (or something similar) 2-3 times daily with a gloved or cleaned hand or clean Q-tip for the first 3 days. We will supply you with aftercare to use in the first few days.

- If uncovered, gentle soap can be used if needed. Pat dry only.

Things to Avoid After Your Session

- Do not submerge the treatment area in water for at least 7 days. This includes baths, pools, hot tubs, etc
- Avoid heavy exercise for 3 days as excessive sweating can pull the pigment out. Keep a towel handy to pat dry the area while healing in the first 2 weeks when working out. Try to wipe off sweat as soon as possible gently.
- Avoid harsh soaps, ointments, and lotions (other than those noted above) on the affected area for the first 7 days. Also, DO NOT use Neosporin or Bacitracin, antibiotic creams. They will pull the pigment out.
- DO NOT pick at the newly forming scabs as your procedure heals! DO NOT scrub, rub, or any form of picking at the epithelial crust that forms. Instead, allow it to flake off by itself. Doing so will pull the pigment out! This is extremely important.
- Avoid exposure to the sun. You mustn't expose your re-pigmented skin to direct sunlight, tanning booths, or any products that increase melanin (what gives your skin its color). After 10 days, wear sunscreen daily to maintain the integrity of the pigments.
- Avoid makeup of any kind on your medical tattoo for 7 days following your procedure.
- After 14 days, if you laser, you need to be sure the laser professional knows your ink has Titanium Dioxide in it, as the laser treatment can affect the pigment.

PLEASE REMEMBER - THE FOLLOWING IS NORMAL

- Stretchmarks/scars will be dark during the healing process. Please don't panic. This can last up to 60-90 days until your skin is fully healed to its new fabulous skin tone! The process of Hyperchromia can be a natural part of the healing process. Though it can happen at any time during the healing stage it tends to be around the 2-3 week mark.

- Slight swelling, itching, scabbing, light bruising, and dry tightness one week after the procedure.
- Very dark and slightly uneven appearance.
- Color change or color loss. As the scars & stretch mark area heal, the ink may turn red, pink, brown, or purple. Again...This is normal
- The procedure area has to be completely healed before addressing any concerns. This takes at least two months (or 45-60 days) but could take longer depending on your skin. Although we can get you in for your touch-up sessions sooner than that just remember final healing time takes at least 45-60 days after the last session.
- Failure to follow aftercare instructions may result in infections, pigment loss, or discoloration.
